MONEY MATTERS

Due to early publication deadline of the December Bulletins figures were not yet available for MONEY MATTERS. Check future bulletin's.

The Annual Catholic Appeal Office notified us that although we exceeded our Amount Pledged assessment by a few dollars, we have yet to meet our cash paid obligation. What this means is that a very few people hadn't made the last payment of their pledge. The notice was intended to be a reminder that the 2010 campaign closes its books on December 31, and any payments made after that would be credited to next years campaign. We suspect that as you are reading this, all payments have been sent to the Diocesan offices. In the unlikely event you haven't done so, please get paid up with a postmark no later than Friday. I'm sure none of us wants to read in the Register that Our Lady of Fatima was one of those few parishes that failed to meet its goal in 2010 - all due to a couple of bucks coming in after the due date.

In Matthew 5 Jesus bids us as individuals to be perfect as His Heavenly Father. In this Season Jesus bids us as families, to be as perfect as His Earthly Family.

Our Lady of Fatima, Parishioners and Pastor, offer our profound gratitude to these three parishioner-members of our parish's Music Ministry who made our Christ-Mass a very blessed and most enjoyable seasonal worship experience.

Tim Burr

Patty Flanagan

Richard Kuiaawa

As part of our expanding music program we will on occasion have both instrumental and vocal guest soloists. There is an esthetic as well as a practical reason for this departure from the norm. While enhancing our worship experience as we praise God musically, we want also to demonstrate to the gathered faithful that full participation in the Liturgy involves listening as well as singing, and that neither is a substitute for the other. A beautiful piece performed by a trained soloist should inspire and encourage the congregation to sing out full-throatedly.

We welcome on Christmas Day (4:30 PM Saturday Mass) Tenor

We welcome on January 2, The Epiphany (9:00 AM Sunday Mass)
Baritone Robert Hench (right)

Meet and greet our guest soloists after Mass in the vestibule, at the choir entrance.

Concerning our Cantors, it must be remembered that they are not soloists. Their role is to lead the congregation and not to replace, overwhelm, or entertain the congregation.

The Flow of the 4:30 PM Mass on Saturdays and the 9:00 AM Mass on Sundays

Time	Time	Event	Notes
3:15	7:45	Confessions Start	Soft recorded music plays to discourage even whispered conversation and encourage mental prayer.
4:05	8:35	Recorded Music stops And Rosary Begins	A parishioner "volunteer" will lead five decades of the Holy Rosary at a respectfully quickened pace.
4:15	8:45	Confessions End
4:20	8:50	Liturgical Preparations	Fr. Z and Richard will lead the gathered community through explanations and practices related to today's Mass and the Mass come next Advent.
4:30	9:00	Announcements	One of the Lectors comes from the rear of the church goes to podium (as opposed to the pulpit) and reads announcements which do not appear in the Bulletin.
4:32	9:02	Mass Begins
5:05	9:35	Liturgy of the Word ends	The four Scripture Readings and the 5 minute Homily, Creed and Prayer of the Faithful conclude the Word and lead into the Eucharist
5:25	9:55	Mass is ended.	We go in peace.

I ask our ministers in training "if we start out perfect what's the point of training?" As the whole parish fine tunes our Mass Skills weekly, we will progressively become (by objectively measurable standards) an outstanding and professional worshipping community. Along the way we will hit some bumps and not everybody will always "agree" with the steps we are taking at any given moment. As Lincoln said: You can't please all the people all the time. Fortunately, all of us have only One God to please all the time, especially at the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass. Sammy Davis Jr. said the difference between an amateur and a professional is that the amateur does a really great job when he's feeling good. The professional does a really great job even when he is feeling poorly.

Our Annual Holiday Open House in the O.L.F. Rectory was an opportunity for parishioners and parish staff members to honor and thank the many volunteers and vendors who keep the parish moving ahead. We paid tribute to the servers, lectors, cantors, E.Ms, musicians, choir persons, sacristans, linen laundresses, fundraiser workers, and the various Councils. As we think what this party is all about, the Pastor hopes that others will listen and hear the call (from God through the people) to special service in and for this parish community. Especially:
