July 3 Luke 10:1-12, 17-20

Parents are like the disciples in today's gospel. We are "sent ahead of Jesus" to prepare our children to know and receive Him. Jesus calls us "laborers" and "lambs among wolves" because parenting is hard work in a culture which rejects our values.

JULY 3, 2016

Scripture Reflection

Only the Gospel of Luke includes the narrative of the sending of the seventy-two disciples to prepare the way for Jesus. When Jesus sends the disciples to "every town and place he intended to visit" they became both migrants and missionaries. In some places they were unwelcome and their message not well received.

We can identify. Often our individual efforts to bring the Word of God to bear on a situation, a relationship, or a course of action can seem fruitless. And yet Jesus sends the disciples ahead of him. At other times disciples follow, and in a sense we always follow him. In another sense, he comes after us, gathering up the results of our labor to present to the Father.

The seventy-two are sent totally dependent upon God and mutually dependent upon others, carrying only their experience of Jesus and the power to heal. If rejected, they are to shake the dust off their feet but still announce that God's kingdom is at hand. Some say this means that if the message will be received it will happen when people are ready. When they return, they learn to boast not in themselves, but that their "names are written in heaven." Their boast is God and the only-begotten Son, Jesus Christ.

Pope Francis reminds us that as Church we are to proclaim the good news of Jesus, "so that faith in him might spread to every corner of the earth". We are missionaries whose lives proclaim the joy of the gospel. We are dependent upon God for everything: faith, talents, the ability to develop our talents, and live. We are mutually dependent upon one another. No one is an island, even in our highly individualistic society. When sick, I need someone to help me. When in need, people turn to others for assistance. God's comfort is know by how we accept our mission to live the gospel and share the gifts God has given us.

OUR LADY OF FATIMA NOTES.....

JUBILEE YEAR OF MERCY

Liturgical Reflection...

At that time the Lord appointed seventy-two others whom he sent ahead of him. Into whatever house they entered they said, "Peace to this household." Whatever town they entered, they said, "The kingdom of God is at hand for you." We are the seventy-two sent out to bring greetings of peace and the arrival of the kingdom of God in our time. How do we best fulfill this gospel challenge? We are instruments of God's mercy. When we see someone or enter their community, we are to enflesh the mercy of God. We are patient, compassionate, loving, and full of forgiveness – all in the name of the Lord.
