October 9 Luke 17:11-19

Everyone needs "A Round Tuit." The lepers in today's gospel probably meant to thank Jesus. Excited about being cured they didn't get 'around to it.' We get caught up in our own interests and fail to appreciate what we have or to say what is in our hearts. This week get yourself a "Round Tuit."

Scripture Reflection

There are two parts to today's Gospel reading from Luke, which readers sometimes struggle to connect. In one, the apostles ask for faith from Jesus; the other is a parable about a master and slaves that is found only in Luke's Gospel. Jesus' teaching on inclusiveness went against the social norms (master/servant) that the disciples knew. They were struggling to understand, and they felt inadequate for the task that Jesus asked of them. They clearly needed more of something to do these things; they thought it was faith that they were missing.

Jesus' response to the disciples uses the ridiculous to teach the obvious. Why would anyone transplant a mulberry tree into the sea? And only one mustard seed is needed for a great bush. Jesus tells them they have all the faith they need to do the things he has been teaching them. They can indeed transform the world around them; the vision is not unreachable.

The shocking language of "worthless" (unprofitable) disciples--I find it shocking every time I read it--might indicate that performing one's duty does not guarantee salvation. But it is more likely that we are being instructed that we cannot save ourselves regardless of what we do and accomplish, it is God who saves us. Faith is essential to enter into God's domain, but it is God who graces us with faith. Once we enter the kingdom, we respond to that faith through the work that we do, but it is God who has empowered us to accomplish our tasks. Boasting is excluded: "We have done only what we ought to have done!"

- Ponder the Gospel passage. Have you asked for your faith to increase?
- How have you experienced faith growing?

OUR LADY OF FATIMA NOTES.....

JUBILEE YEAR OF MERCY

Liturgical Reflection...

Our God is filled with mercy. Ten lepers are healed. Their brokenness has been made whole. Many tend to run away or turn their back on those in need. We become uncomfortable or lack the time to give assistance. We follow Jesus who reached out and showed pity to those ten persons. There are those among us who are eager to be made whole. In our families, neighborhoods, and church communities, we have sisters and brothers who wish to have their brokenness healed. In mercy may we reach out to them, as did our Lord in today's Gospel. Mercy can make dramatic changes in the lives of others.
