Special notes for Christmas Eve

Two of our longtime “sort of “ parishioners will become full fledged members of this Catholic Community this weekend.

After years of fulfilling his marital promises to make sure his children were Baptized and raised Catholic Wilson (Butch) Carper became so familiar with what it meant to be a Catholic he decided to become one.

Carol Corle insists on sitting as far up front as she can when she is at Mass. Her non-Catholic husband, Jack, insists on sitting as close to her as he can possibly get. Having had for years now a birds eye view of what goes on at the Altar, Jack decided to get even closer by making himself a part of what is going on there by becoming a part of it himself. He too wants to become a Catholic - that is - a member of Christ's Body.

The two men will make their First Holy Communion at the 4:30 PM Mass on Saturday, December 24, 2014. We are asking that the two men and their families be given positions of preference in the Communion lines.

Our parish has been praying up a storm to Saint John Vianney to get priestly vocations from the parish for the Diocese. By the looks of it for the next while we will either have to pray harder or be content with the generosity of our parishioner, Lorraine Shuma, who is willing to loan us her seminarian grandson, Justin, who is neither of this Diocese nor of this parish. Justin has offered to let himself be used to show us what a college seminarian looks like as an inspiration for our parish grandsons.

Parishioners attending the 4:30 are asked to share in the hospitality following the Mass in the vestibule, an excellent opportunity to congratulate and encourage the three men.
