One Hundred Years!

As is well known the parish of St. Leo the Great was suppressed (a technical term used in Canon Law meaning “no longer exists”) so that the parish of Our Lady of Fatima could come into existence. This same legal action occurred simultaneously with the parish of Sts. Peter and Paul which was the other entity in the merger (and suppression) of the two parishes leading to the erection (another technical term) of the parish of Our Lady of Fatima.

Although the name of the group of PEOPLE worshiping at 2000 Twelfth Avenue is the Parish of Our Lady of Fatima, the name of the BUILDING they worship in continues to be the Church of Saint Leo the Great. Technically, there is no such thing as an Our Lady of Fatima Church, even though, for convenience sake, most of us (erroneously) call both the people and the building by the same name. Canon Law makes it extremely difficult to change the name of a building blessed and dedicated to a particular Saint, to that of another Saint. (Think of it this way: you have a Plaster-of-Paris statue of what looks like what you imagine the Blessed Mother might have looked like. You have a priest bless (and dedicate) this statue to Mary. Suppose you give the statue to some body else. Even though somebody else now owns the statue it is still a statue of Mary. The new owner can't, on any level, claim that it is now a statue of Saint Joseph.)

(In the case of Sts. Peter and Paul Church building the Bishop (whose name appears as the sole trustee on all deeds of any Catholic Church Property in his jurisdiction) relinquished any claim on the property at the time of the sale. Since it was no longer Catholic Church property, (as Saint Leo's remains) the purchasers, The Orthodox Egyptian Coptic Parish, can call their property anything they choose, which they did.)

This mini-lesson in Church History and Canon Law is said by way of introduction of the fact that our worship site is one hundred years old this year. The building of Saint Leo the Great Church was built in 1911. Although this fact deserves noting and some kind of salute, it does not call for full blown celebration. Our primary way of commemorating this anniversary is by placing the statue of Saint Leo the Great in the sanctuary for the year, in the location designated as our “Saint of the Year” spot. At the end of the year the Saint Leo statue will be returned to its place of distinction in the shrine of our three patrons - Peter, Paul, and Leo - on the Gospel side of the church building.

In your prayers to Saint Leo the Great throughout the year ask him to protect our church building and the people who use the building named after him. Ask him to use his influence before the throne of God to get the Divine favor of a healthy, prosperous, and long life for the parish of Our Lady of Fatima which engages in Catholic worship exercises here in the Fifth Ward of Altoona.

Ask Leo to petition the Blessed Trinity to enlighten the minds of decision makers here on earth of the ongoing importance of this parish in, and to, the Fifth Ward.
