Pray for Vocations... especially to the diocesan priesthood.

Basically, before you put your own fixings on it (which are really unnecessary) it is fresh rolled “pizza” dough slathered with mashed potatoes, layered with cheese chosen by the baker, lots of onion, some garlic, and just the right amount of butter. We can’t give you the whole recipe! Once you get it home you can add any thing you like to the already tasty basic Pagacha.

however you spell it... it really tastes really good;

Our Lady of Fatima Parish has teamed up with the bakers at Cesare Battisti / Jack’s Grub Shack, 3909 Beale Ave., to provide Altoona’s ethnic gourmets with fresh baked Pagash, anytime every day. The partnership consists of OLF selling them and the Grub Shack making them.

Pagash makes a great Lunch, Supper, or evening Snack. Use it as you would an ordinary pizza. Like a regular pizza Pagash is best right out of the oven, but it’s almost equally good coming out of the microwave later on.

Here’s the deal! In a few weeks you will be able to buy a special “Pagash Pie” ticket in the vestibule of OLF church or on the street from one of our designated sellers.

- The cost of each ticket is $11.00
- You can redeem the ticket at the Grub Shack for one basic pie during their operating hours*
- The tickets are marked with a “valid from  to ” note. There is a sixty day period during which the tickets can be used (if purchased on day one) and a fifty day period if purchased on day 10. With all our other food fundraisers you are confined to the one day we are having the sale. With the Pagash Sale you are in control of the day and time you want to enjoy the great taste.
- We are arranging for a free taste testing after Masses before the tickets go on sale. Note: If you ask questions or offer suggestions, we will address them in next week’s advertisement.

* The shack is operational seven days a week. The morning, afternoon, and evening hours are printed on the ticket.

Catholic Charities Announces Website Launch

Support from generous donors enables Catholic Charities of the Altoona-Johnstown Diocese to help more of our neighbors in need keep warm, feed their families, feel safe, and, most of all, know that they are not forgotten.

Catholic Charities of the Altoona-Johnstown Diocese is excited to announce the launch of our new website at www.catholiccharitiesaj.org; in order to better reach those in need in our eight-county service area.

The hope is that the site will help community members better understand the scope of our services, with the goal of inspiring them to volunteer time or donate to the organization.

The new website is an integral part of our new communications plan, which was created after a recent survey revealed that, despite serving thousands of people for more than 60 years, Catholic Charities was not well-known in the communities it serves.

Importantly, the website includes detailed information regarding Catholic Charities services:

- Emergency financial assistance (heat, housing, food)
- Foster care
- Adoption services

Jean Johnstone
Executive Director

- Assistance to women in crisis pregnancies
- Individual, family, marital, and group counseling
- Homeless Shelter Program

Catholic Charities serves anyone who seeks assistance regardless of religious affiliation, race, color, ancestry, sex, national origin, handicap or disability.

"At the core, Catholic Charities exists to fulfill the call of the Gospel and the social teachings of the Catholic Church, to recognize the dignity of every person, and to help all our neighbors in their greatest time of need," says Jean Johnstone, Executive Director. "So, while the mission is rooted in the Catholic Church, we are here to serve everyone." The new website makes that clear.

Services are made possible by contributions of generous donors from within the Catholic Diocese of Altoona-Johnstown and from individual donors from communities in Catholic Charities' service area.

For more information about Catholic Charities and its services, or about volunteering or donating, please visit the website at www.catholiccharitiesaj.org or call Jean Johnstone, Executive Director, at (814) 944-9388.

Gabrielle Smith '14 ROTC

Gabby Smith will attend Saint Francis University on a Department of Army, ROTC full scholarship. She will leave Altoona for Missouri on June 12 for advanced training and then attend SFU in the fall for her major of physician assistant. Smith, who attended basic training last summer and earned the rank of private first class, was one of only 1,000 students to receive the Army ROTC scholarship nationwide. "I was shocked," Smith said when she found out that she had received the ROTC scholarship. "I was really excited about it." Smith said Army training and a BG education work hand in hand, citing the importance of "leadership and being true to yourself."
